A Proposal for Consideration by the Newark Faculty Advisory Council

Presented by the Planning and Budget Subcommittee
3/6/95
To Respond to Lawrence's Call for Ideas and Programs

Whereas the mission of this subcommittee is to examine the planning and budgeting processes of the university, we recommend a change in the process for evaluating diversity goals and their impact.

Objectives of a process change:

1. To build concern for diversity goals into the cultural fabric and organizational nerves of university life;

2. To instill on-going awareness of and concern for progress toward diversity goals from the present into the future;

3. To assure that consistent and adequate attention be devoted to diversity goals across changes in university administrations;

4. To evaluate the impact of various strategies, programs, and policies in achieving university diversity goals;

5. To monitor closely and consistently university progress toward diversity goals on all campuses and in all facets of university life;

6. To provide information to various university audiences, current and potential students, and the public about Rutgers University progress toward diversity goals;

7. To serve as a national role model for other universities about how to build diversity goals into on-going university processes.
